

CONVEYANCING FEE STRUCTURE

Your property transaction with us will be dealt with by a qualified Solicitor or Chartered Legal Executive who will be available in an office local to you. We encourage our clients to meet with and get to know the lawyer so that you are comfortable asking all of the important questions you will have. We provide a bespoke estimate and a bespoke service for residential conveyancing transactions. The estimate is based on how much work we anticipate being required. We discuss the matter with you and give you a single figure based on the information you provide. Our charges are transparent and we will give you a total inclusive figure. Our final charges will not deviate from the estimate unless we have notified you in advance and you have agreed to us carrying out additional work that could not have been anticipated at the time of the estimate. For you to better understand how that estimate is calculated we give some examples below.

Our starting point for the estimated fee for a property value under £450,000 is £725 for a sale and £795 for a Purchase. Above £450,000 the starting point is 0.18% of the property value.

This is based on our experience of the amount of work we would do on the average transaction and the additional work and risk created as the property value and size increases. Please note that it is important you ask for a bespoke estimate as this starting point can be adjusted by the individual lawyer based on some variables that may make a difference:

- The purchase price may not reflect the size or complexity of the property but simply a prime location and so it may be the case on higher value properties that the individual lawyer is able to reduce the starting point figure based on our local knowledge or in consultation with the Estate Agent.
- On a sale, if John Hodge Solicitors acted on the purchase recently we will know that the title will be good and documents will be readily available. This could reduce the amount of work involved.
- We have been carrying out conveyancing in this area since 1777. On a purchase we may have experience of specific issues with the title to a local property and so can anticipate the extra work required. Equally, we are likely to have come across the issue before and so can minimise the additional work required.
- Where there is more than one client it may or may not complicate the transaction and result in an increase to the fee. We do not increase the basic fee initially for joint owners but if for example we subsequently find that one of the owners is travelling in Mongolia the fees may be increased. We often have knowledge of our client's personal situation from previous matters and so can adjust the basic fee according to our knowledge of the availability of joint owners.

There will then be standard factors that cause us to increase the figure from the starting point:

Mortgage – This would increase the fee by £250 as you have to pay for us to act for the lender as well as for you. There will be additional paperwork to consider and another party to correspond with.

Leasehold Property - This would increase the fee by £500 given that we will have to consider the freehold title to the property and then the lease of that freehold title which will include a significant number of important clauses and requirements that we will need to check carefully, report to you and advise you on. There is considerably more work involved in acquiring a leasehold property and it is important that you are properly informed of your rights and obligations.

New Build Property – This would increase the fee by £250. There are additional complications when dealing with a property that has not been lived in before. It is important that you understand the additional risks involved with things like unadopted roads or roads that have not been made up, a building and equipment that has not been tested and the different position you are in purchasing from a commercial developer rather than an individual.

Joint Ownership, Deposit Assistance or Help to Buy Scheme - This would increase our fees by £500. These schemes are often very complex and it is important that you understand the additional agreements that you will be required to enter into. They do require a significant amount of additional work when providing the type of comprehensive service that we provide to our clients.

Separate Lender Representation – Some less common lenders insist on having a separate solicitor acting for them in the transaction. You would imagine that would reduce the amount of work involved for this firm but in practice it is significantly increased as we have to correspond with an additional legal adviser who will generally require us to carry out the same work as we would do if we were acting for the lender as well as their own additional requirements and provide additional undertakings. This will add £500 to our fees in addition to the £250 for the Mortgage. This is not common and so please check with us if you know who your lender is.

John Hodge Solicitors are a local firm of solicitors that has been helping individuals, families and small businesses in this area for generations, since 1777 in fact.

We pride ourselves in providing an independent, personal service from our local accessible offices, putting the needs of our client first at all times.
